The Einstein field equations (EFE) may be written in the form:^[1]

$$R_{\mu\nu} - \frac{1}{2}g_{\mu\nu} R + g_{\mu\nu} \Lambda = \frac{8\pi G}{c^4} T_{\mu\nu}$$ where $R_{\mu\nu}$ is the Ricci curvature tensor, R the scalar curvature, $g_{\mu\nu}$ the metric tensor, Λ is the cosmological constant, G is Newton's gravitational constant, c the speed of light, and $T_{\mu\nu}$ the stress-energy tensor.

The EFE is a tensor equation relating a set of symmetric 4 x 4 tensors. Each tensor has 10 independent components. Given the freedom of choice of the four spacetime coordinates, the independent equations reduce to 6 in number.

Although the Einstein field equations were initially formulated in the context of a four-dimensional theory, some theorists have explored their consequences in n dimensions. The equations in contexts outside of general relativity are still referred to as the Einstein field equations. The vacuum field equations define Einstein manifolds.

Despite the simple appearance of the equations they are, in fact, quite complicated. Given a specified distribution of matter and energy in the form of a stress-energy tensor, the EFE are understood to be equations for the metric tensor $g_{\mu\nu}$, as both the Ricci tensor and scalar curvature depend on the metric in a complicated nonlinear manner. In fact, when fully written out, the EFE are a system of 10 coupled, nonlinear, hyperbolic-elliptic partial differential equations.

One can write the EFE in a more compact form by defining the Einstein tensor

Elitser Teacher 20 (Elitser Teacher 20): Good evening too...
Elitser Teacher 20 (Elitser Teacher 20): Is there something I can help ?
Elitser Student 21 (Student 21): So, to continue our last discussion, what will happen if we break the relativity rule?

D. Benefits:

1. Greater Future:

- Free To join.
- Elite Teachers.
- Follow Standard Curriculums.

2. Save Money:

- Low Prices compared to onsite teachers and other tutoring session.
- 100% flexibility and rescheduling.
- Save on Travelling time and expenses.
- Teachers can generate revenue while reducing expenses.

3. Easy Management:

- Based on the social network concept and structure, Elitsertutor profiles are easy to manage. Its same way as FaceBook . We Provide also a management Interface for Parents and Portal Admins.
- We Offer also the Possibility to access recorded sessions and review content.

E. Conclusion:

ElitserTutor is a free online Tutoring Platform that combines: Social Network structure, Audio and Video Communication in real time, and brings a tutor virtually face to face with a student, sitting in any part of the world. . Besides online tutoring, ElitserTutor also provides Test Prep Help, Homework Help, Supplemental Tutoring and Expert assistance before tests and exams.

ElitserTutor goes beyond simple tutoring sessions; it allows parents to monitor their children tutoring activities, progress, and view practice test and exam results. We provide a complete management interface for them that include financial and academic reports. A Parent and Teacher can communicate via email, online messaging and chat.

ElitserTutor is designed to work in a school environment where designated admin staff can monitor from a specific interface the progress of tutoring sessions, students' progress, exam and practice test results, attendance and financial reports.

Thanks to a strong notification design we provide all kind of real time notifications to: parents, students, teachers and school staff via : email, sms and online messages.

Thank You.
